QUESTION:
How DO EMPLOYEES & COMPANIES BENEFIT FROM CHIROPRACTIC
 SPINAL MANIPULATION?

ANSWER: With higher performance and more productivity.

When a worker is sidelined because of a health problem, everybody loses.

The company loses a valuable employee, which could mean a loss of production. The worker loses self-confidence in addition to suffering pain and disability. The family unit loses part of its income, so important to maintaining a standard of living. The union loses part of its health and welfare fund in payments and other benefits.

Obviously, there is no way of eliminating on-the-job and off-the-job injuries entirely. But it would be helpful and less costly for all if time for recuperation could be reduced.

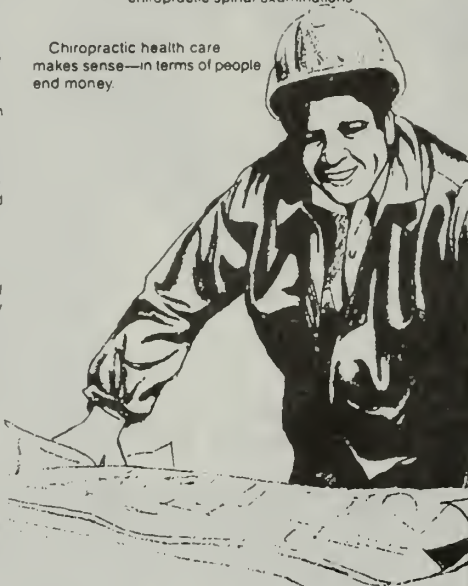

Chiropractic can reduce time off. In fact, comparative studies of Workers' Compensation cases from a number of states prove chiropractic's effectiveness in getting injured employees on their feet faster.

Imagine the advantages of eliminating hospitalization. Being treated on an out-patient basis. Not being subjected to the hazards and expenses of drugs and surgery.

Here's what you can do:

- Get to know the chiropractic health method and its benefits
- Make chiropractic services available to employees in any health and welfare or insurance program with which you are associated. Insist upon it.
- Recognize the importance of structural health. One of the best safeguards against illness and disease is to practice a program of health care which includes chiropractic spinal examinations.

Chiropractic health care makes sense—in terms of people and money.

PURCHASED FROM MR. TROTT, THE EGG WAS FOUND

WROTE THE FOLLOWING POEM:

A SHELL GAME?

There is an old Biddy living out on a farm

In a snug poultry house, safe from all harm.

Yet, one day, she was frightened
there in her coop

When she heard that old hens make the best chicken soup!

Worried and fearful she over scratched
her game leg,
And she forgot to lay her usual large egg.

Then in a panic at what she had done,
She laid a small egg inside her large one!

Now this stunt should bring her everlasting fame,
Maybe she has created a new (egg)
shell game!

Letter to the Editor¹

Parents of Mattapoisett elementary school children recently received a notice stating that school buses will only take their children from school to their assigned stop. The practice of taking another bus for the purpose of visiting a friend is now prohibited. The stated reason for this action is that the buses do not have the capacity to allow additional passengers on short notice.

However, most of the buses do have some additional seats. There may be a way to insure that the buses are not filled beyond capacity without a blanket prohibition on visiting friends.

The Superintendent of Schools has agreed to put this policy on the agenda of the next School Committee meeting for reevaluation. If any

Build a Senior Center?

COUNCIL ON AGING
SEEKS INPUT ON A SENIOR CENTER

The Mattapoissett Council on Aging has formed a study committee to consider whether the seniors - or seniors-to-be - feel there is a need for a Senior Center in Mattapoissett.

Although there are no specific funds available at this time to build a Center, there are avenues to pursue; such as state Department of Elderly funds; a town meeting voted bond issue; private donations; town taxes. To be eligible for state funds, a need must be shown.

As there is presently a Police Station Study Committee studying the feasibility of building a police station on Route 6 and Church Street as a possible site, there is sufficient land to also consider

A simple structure with sufficient room for senior activities is all that is needed. Admittedly, the idea is only in the very preliminary stages. However, we would appreciate any comments either for or against building a Senior Center.

The program will show the children the latest in state of the art home, educational and industrial robots in use with the microcomputer.

The electronic master of ceremonies for this program is a robot that resembles the Star Wars robot, R2D2. After a general introduction, the presenter will give a background and history of the computer, and will then show an actual industrial robotic arm and demonstrate its movements. A six minute film is also used to help show large industrial arms in use. This 45-minute program is being updated constantly as new robots become available.

The last part of the program will explore and demonstrate toy and home robots.

This program is sponsored by the Mattapoisett Parent Teachers' Club as a member of S.U.C.C.E.E.D., a collaborative whose members are dedicated to bringing the finest quality artistic and educational programs to their schools and communities.

We want to thank the Fairhaven Savings Bank for showing us around the bank. We saw how the 24-hour teller works. We put a bag of money into the night deposit, and it came out in a safe. In spite of his busy orthopedic and sports medicine practice in Wareham, Dr. Parsons has found time to develop recognized talent in this avocation of painting. His works are owned by collectors in many parts of this country, as well as abroad.

"The watercolor medium particularly appeals to me," said Dr. Parsons, whose works detail the many beaches, harbors, bays and bogs of southeastern Massachusetts and Cape Cod. "I love the outdoors and prefer to paint on location rather than

"Jail and Bail"

QUESTION: What does a priest, a schoolteacher, a talk show host, a bank president, a high school student, a senior citizen, a zookeeper and an entrepreneur have in common with a caged parrot that squawks "Let me out!"?

ANSWER: They're all going to be "pen pals" in jail during the Third Annual Jail and Bail at the North Dartmouth Mall on November 6th, 7th and 8th.

They're not, of course, going to a real jail. But, as participants in the American Cancer Society's "Jail and Bail", they'll be raising money in the fight against cancer. Participation is voluntary and bail is raised by calling friends, family and colleagues to make pledges to the American Cancer Society.

All profits from "Jail and Bail" will go toward funding cancer research, patient services and life-saving education programs of the American Cancer Society.

Last year, the event raised over $56,000 and this year's event is represents a very large investment in time and energy. Perhaps the hardest part of the entire process of putting together a project is getting started.

The Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies, 430 Potomska Road, South Dartmouth, is pleased to announce its upcoming workshop, The Science Fair - Getting Started, to be held on Saturday, November 15th, from 10:00 to 3:00. Sandra Ryack-Bell, Lloyd Center School Program Coordinator, will instruct the workshop, focusing on some of the problems encountered in the early stages of developing a Science Fair project.

Topics covered in this workshop will include: choosing an appropriate subject, narrowing down the scope of a broad subject, understanding the scientific method, finding good resources, getting started with research, and putting together a display which illustrates the project creatively.

The fee for this workshop is $5. for Lloyd Center members, $10. for non-members. This is a very popular workshop and space is limited. Advanced registration is required. To register or for more information please call 990-0505.

The group will listen for owls and other night-flying birds and observe activity around a fresh-water kettle pond. Participants will meet at the Lloyd Center at 6:00 p.m. This program is free, but pre-registration is required.

The Lloyd Center also offers interpretive walks each Sunday of the year and a bird walk on the first Sunday of every month. There is no cost for the weekly walks thanks to a contribution from Marianne MacDonald Real Estate.

Upcoming walks include: Introduction to Orienteering, 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., Sunday, November 16th; The Dartmouth Natural Resources Trust, 1:30-3:30 p.m., Sunday, November 22nd.

gram for a canoe excursion to Everglades National Park, Florida. We'll explore the beautiful sub-tropical wilderness of the Everglades December 27th - January 2nd. Canoe and hike throughout this unique environment which stretches over 1,000,000 acres and contains unique features such as saw-grass prairies, mangrove swamps, cypress domes and freshwater sloughs. Due to its sub-tropical climate, the Everglades provides an opportunity to see a wide variety of tropical and temperate plants and animals. Camp in the Cape Sable area, home of herons, storks, anhingas, spoonbills, alligators, and turtles. The rare Florida panther may also be sighted.

The Everglades depends on a slow, widespread flow of water southward from Lake Okeechobee. The demands of both urban and agricultural growth have caused the water to be diverted. This in turn has had a detrimental effect on the wildlife inhabiting this endangered ecosystem. Examine the intricate ecology of this important area as we study and discuss the issues surrounding its future.

Glass Museum

A reception for the artist and video premiere is scheduled for Sunday, November 9th, from 4 to 6 p.m., when The New Bedford Glass Museum will honor Carl Schweidenback, a surviving glass engraver from the original Mt. Washington-Pairpoint glass company in New Bedford (1867-1956).

Mr. Schweidenback began engraving in the 1930s, following his father's career as a glass engraver. The young engraver apprenticed under Olympio ("Ollie") Cayton, considered the dean of 20th century Pairpoint engravers. Carl Schweidenback continued with the Pairpoint firm until its close in 1956, and later joined a newly formed Pairpoint Glass Company of Sagamore, under Robert Bryden. Mr. Schweidenback's designs are among the most highly prized examples of the famous New Bedford firms, which specialized in glass engraving particularly in the 1920s through the 1940s.

Retiring only in 1986, Mr. Schweidenback has been chosen as a subject for oral history in the NGBM gallery video series. The video tape, which will premiere at this reception, traces the procedures, history, and traditions of New Bedford glass engravers.

The oral history series is funded by The National Endowment for the
